

Interview with Carol L. Deom, Clip 1

[Interviewer: Can you describe for me maybe the difference of the troops you saw getting ready to go to Vietnam and those you saw coming back?]

Carol Deom: The ones that was going over was very much -- each and every one of them was going over there to win the war. Each and every one of them was going to do it single handed. They were young, very foolish. They were so young. And the ones that came back, the ones that I, you know, were getting to see, they'd come back, they were old men by the time they'd come back. They were totally different.